

Dean's Spring 2012 Welcome

Hello and Happy New Year! My name is Susan J. Schurman. I am the Dean of the University College Community, Professor and Acting Dean in the School of Management and Labor Relations. I also chair the Professional Schools' Academic Oversight Committee for the New Brunswick Campus. I'd like to take this opportunity to offer a heartfelt Rutgers welcome to our new adult and nontraditional students and welcome back our continuing on-campus and off-campus students.

Susan J. Schurman, PhD

UCC is aware that adult and nontraditional students must meet various responsibilities at home and at work while making extra efforts to reach their academic goals. We also know the value of successfully completing a college degree, not just in financial terms, but also in terms of personal development and social change.

Our ongoing goal is to reach adult and nontraditional students because we know that they face significant non-academic responsibilities that make their college years very different from the traditional college experience. Our first task is to reach nontraditional students to make sure that they are informed of important developments, events, resources, services, dates, and major and minor programs that are available evenings weekends, and online. UCC also helps guide nontraditional students to vital web information to enhance their experience at Rutgers University in a more effective and efficient manner. In addition, we advocate for nontraditional students inside the larger Rutgers University community by recommending policies and programs to meet their specific needs.

This past fall, we participated in adult recruitment, orientations, transition programs, and Veteran outreach initiatives, to name a few. We are especially proud of our contribution to the formation of two new degree-completion programs designed specifically for adult nontraditional students: the School of Management and Labor Relations has launched a Bachelor of Science \(BS\) degree in Labor & Employment Relations, and the Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy began accepting new students this fall 2011 term for a Bachelor of Science degree in Public Health. Through our continued research, collaborations, and focus groups, we remain committed to developing programs to attract adult and nontraditional students to Rutgers. In fact, through our enhanced outreach via our Virtual Learning Community on sakai, myRutgers, UCC list serves, and direct mail, we will continue to identify more nontraditional students. We have also initiated a volunteer mentoring program so that Rutgers faculty and staff who are veterans can act as resources for an anticipated influx of returning veterans in the years to come.

Our goal is to create a sense of community for those students who do not live on campus and who have significant responsibilities outside of academia.

Sincerely,

UCC NONTRADITIONAL STUDENT HIGHLIGHT

Paula Gibson, 35, is a resident of Jackson, NJ, and a student at one of Rutgers' Off-campus locations at Brookdale Community College (BCC). The off-campus locations enable Rutgers to offer degree programs to local residents of New Jersey who are faced with the challenge of balancing school with family, work and/or a long commute. Paula is currently enrolled in the BS in Labor Studies and Employment Relations offered by the School of Management and Labor Relations (SMLR) and hopes to complete her degree in 2013.

Madison and Paula making time to enjoy an evening at the theater.

Paula graduated from St. Mary's Regional High School renamed Cardinal McCarrick High School in South Amboy, NJ, in 1995 and enrolled at Brookdale Community College in fall 1995 as a full-time student. While attending her first term gave her the confidence to continue her studies, Paula paced herself by taking 1 to 2 classes per term during winter, spring, summer and fall. She completed her Associate in Arts-Social Science on December 22, 2010— fifteen years later. She wanted to continue and earn her bachelors degree. She said, "I decided to go back to school as an adult and I wanted to stay as close to home as possible. I stopped in at the Higher Education Center in Freehold NJ and spoke with the staff at the Off-campus academic programs—Joe Walsh and Latoya Fendrick. They were so friendly and accommodating in answering all of my questions, that I applied to Rutgers afterwards."

Paula has a full schedule. She works fulltime as a medical technician at CentraState Health Systems in Freehold, NJ. She attends school fulltime and is a devoted mother to her twelve year-old daughter, Madison. Madison is a big fan of Rutgers University. Her dream is to attend Rutgers University to be one of their basketball players. Paula says, "Life can be very hectic since Madison plays four sports, so my time is very limited. I try not to miss any of her games." Paula maintains a solid 3.000 GPA and admits that going at it for 16 years has taught her some valuable lessons—stay motivated and positive! She says, "If you want something bad enough, find your inner strength to succeed."
