Hello and Happy New Year! My name is Susan J. Schurman. I am the Dean of the University College Community and hold concurrent roles as faculty in the School of Management and Labor Relations, Director of Lifelong Learning, and Veteran Services Coordinator for the New Brunswick Campus. I'd like to take this opportunity to offer a heartfelt Rutgers welcome to our new adult and nontraditional students and welcome back our continuing on-campus and off-campus students.

UCC is aware that adult and nontraditional students must meet various responsibilities at home and at work while making extra efforts to reach their academic goals. We also know the value of successfully completing a college degree, not just in financial terms, but also in terms of personal development and social change.

Our ongoing goal is to reach adult and nontraditional students because we know that you face significant non-academic responsibilities that make your college years very different from the traditional college experience. Our first task is to reach you to make sure that you are informed of important developments, events, resources, services, dates, and majors and minors programs that are available to students during the evening, weekends, and online. UCC will also help guide you to vital web information to enhance your experience at Rutgers University in a more effective and efficient manner. In addition, we advocate for you inside the larger Rutgers University community by recommending policies and programs to meet your specific needs.

This past Fall, we held a Dean’s Forum to hear adult and nontraditional students voice their concerns. We participated in adult recruitment, orientations, transition programs, and Veteran outreach initiatives, to name a few. Our most important and impressive accomplishment was our contribution to the formation of the new adult-friendly degree granting unit in the School of Management and Labor Relations, which will begin fully accepting students directly into the school for a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree beginning Fall 2010. Through our continued research, collaborations, and focus groups, we remain committed to developing programs to attract a growing number of nontraditional students to Rutgers. In fact, through our enhanced outreach via our Virtual Learning Community on sakai, myRutgers, and direct mail, we are confident that we will identify more nontraditional students. We have also started a volunteer mentoring program so that Rutgers faculty and staff who are veterans can act as resources for an anticipated influx of returning veterans in the years to come. These are just a few of our many accomplishments and actions.

Our goal is to create a sense of community for those students who do not live on campus and whose lives are also dedicated to responsibilities outside of academia.

Sincerely,

Susan J. Schurman, PhD

RU An Employed Student?

The economic situation in the U.S. is impacting the unemployment rate by the thousands, and some Americans don’t expect to be recalled to work anytime soon. Rutgers Student Employment Office in New Brunswick, under the umbrella of the Financial Aid Office, continues to administer employment programs during these times of economic stress by collaborating with UCC and other departments to convey the numerous opportunities available to adult and nontraditional students while they attend college.

The following employment programs serve our students: the Job Location and Development Program (JLDP), which consists of unskilled to technical, non-work study jobs offered on a part-time and seasonal basis for all university students, and the Federal Work-Study Program (FWSP), which is funded by the federal government and the university for students eligible for financial aid. These programs can provide contacts that will help shape your future career goals. Both programs offer flexible, part-time employment opportunities on and off campus. Employment exists in various departments and labs within the University and local non-profit agencies.

In an effort to increase the JLDP database, please refer any interested employers to the JLDP Employment Counselor at 848-932-2648.

Douglass Bunting Women at Rutgers

The Mary I. Bunting Program was established in 1958 by Mary I. Bunting, the Dean of Douglass College at that time. This program, which is now a part of Douglass Residential College, provides individualized advising and support services for mature women students. Women enrolled full-time or part-time in any of the undergraduate schools at Rutgers-New Brunswick are eligible to affiliate with UCC and the Douglass Residential College Bunting Program; these schools include the School of Arts and Sciences, School of Environmental and Biological Sciences, School of Management and Labor Relations, School of Engineering, Mason Gross School of the Arts, School of Pharmacy, and the College of Nursing. Any woman who has been out of high school for five years or more automatically becomes a Bunting student when she joins Douglass Residential College. For more information, contact Dr. Katherine Birckmayer at birck@echo.rutgers.edu.

Rutgers Learning Centers

Rutgers Learning Centers work with students through a variety of free academic support programs to promote student achievement. Meet your academic challenges. Contact a Learning Center to get started.

UCC STUDENT HIGHLIGHT

I am a ‘Nontraditional’ student who came to Rutgers in the summer of 2006 through the Elena Buchanan Transition Program. This important program allowed people interested in Rutgers University to attend conveniently timed non-credit classes in order to give prospective adult students a sense of what would be expected of them academically when they became full-time matriculated students at Rutgers.

While at Rutgers, I have been involved in several committees, including the University College Governing Association (now UC Council) as a student at large, the Allocations Committee, and the Elections Committee. I also serve as representative to the Alumni Association for UCC. These committees help promote and develop the interests of the nontraditional students at Rutgers, and they are worth your time and support.

Foremost, I am indebted to my friends and family and Rutgers for the opportunity to educate myself. I am fortunate to have a wife who shares the challenges of raising two young boys. I have also been able to manage my business interests while attending Rutgers. My major is Philosophy and I have a minor in Cognitive Science, and I am in the process of completing a major in Psychology. I serve as the Rutgers Chapter V.P. of the Philosophy Honors Society, and I plan to apply to graduate programs in psychology after graduation. Attending Rutgers as a nontraditional student has had its challenges and rewards.

As a nontraditional student, what I am most proud of is the change my education at Rutgers has helped me make. I was used to running a business, employing people, having a reserved parking space, a secretary, and so on. I was growing a business, and I was growing through this process. It was a humbling experience to come to Rutgers and be a ‘student’, and that was an important part of my growth. A university education helped me progress in my professional goals, but more than anything it has helped me to understand the world we live in and has given me a new perspective on my own values and life. My children witnessed my commitment to doing something to grow as a human being, and I think of that as a very special gift for all of us. I am proud to think of myself as a ‘student’, and I hope to always be one in the truest sense.

SPRING 2010 UPCOMING EVENTS

Career Days

New Jersey Diversity Career Day will take place on Friday, February 19, 2010 at the Rutgers Student Center, College Avenue Campus. This career day is open to all students, alumni, and the public. A wide range of employers will be available to speak with candidates about full-time jobs, internships and co-ops in various fields and industries.

The Big East Career Consortium will be held on Friday, March 12, 2010 at Madison Square Garden in NY, which is less than an hour away if you take the express train from New Brunswick. Career Centers from the Big East Conference schools have joined together to offer unparalleled recruiting events. Only students and alumni with a major or degree from any of the 16 Big East Conference schools are eligible to participate in this event. Don’t miss it.

Veterans Reception and Forum

This year’s event celebrates the service and education opportunities of Veterans and dependents of Veterans enrolled at Rutgers University on the New Brunswick, Newark, and Camden campuses. Veteran students will receive information about the various services and resources offered by local Veteran Affairs representatives; there will also be opportunities to network with fellow students, staff, mentors, and alumni.
